---

[1] Lunervikk is a famous avowed Wright "from over a century ago", according to Contract III's translation of Met-oosa's words. Assume "century" means one hundred Artonan years.

[2] An Artonan year is roughly fifteen earth months, so one hundred Artonan years is roughly 125 earth years.

[3] Joe claims, "We haven't blown anything up too badly in my lifetime."

[4] Joe sat on the committee that put the Hot Lab Coat in the Wardrobe "decades ago"; that was likely a desirable position he could not have gained without some clout, so he's probably at least 60.

[5] Joe summoned humans before he was conspicuously tattooed; it's unlikely he was born more than 50 years before Contract Earth was formed.

[6] Alden's initial estimate [ch 26] is that Manon is about 50 years old. We know from ch. 101 she is at least 50. She affixed "thirty-something years ago" [ch 32], so 2000 at earliest. Assume she affixed when 15-17 years old, so 2007 at latest.

[7] A sixteen-earth-years-old Artonan is developmentally similar to a twelve-year-old human. I assume this ratio holds constant through all stages of youth and young adulthood, at least. Assume that Stu is age 17 equivalent when met.

[8] Manon has been working the LeafSong admissions week for 23 years, according to a boater. The admissions week happens once per Artonan year or every 15 months, placing her original summons closer to 22.5 years ago.

Late Jan. 2025 CE	Lute Velra born. [Ch 110]
~2025 CE	Leah and Connie's parents die. [Ch 65] Manon buys a 15-year timer. [Ch 101]

~2030 CE	Maricel's lola cured of dementia. Ch. 93 flashback begins.

~2032 CE	Boe buys a Bedlam Beldam poster. [Ch 5] Lute switches from piano to harp. [Ch 109]
October 2032 CE	Body Drainer incident. [Ch 2] [10] Leah and Richard Thorn killed. Ch. 1.
Late 2032 CE	Hannah visits Alden. Connie, 25 years old, becomes Alden's guardian. [Ch 2, 65] Ch. 2.
~2035 CE	Sina-art'h dies. [59, 107][11] Ch. 59 flashback begins.
Late spring/early summer 2035 CE	Alden calls Hannah. Ch. 3, 4.
Summer 2035 CE	Alden visits Anesidora.

[9] Alden provides multiple estimates of Kibby's effective age. I used the estimate in ch. 46 that she is equivalent to an eight-year-old, as it comes later and is probably based on more complete knowledge. Apply age conversion factor.
[10] Hannah says in ch. 2 that the club Body Drainer hit was having an early Halloween party, placing the month as October with high confidence.
[11] Assume Stu is age 17 equivalent when met. Assume Stu is age 13 equivalent in flashback. Apply age conversion factor.

Fall 2035 CE	Alden Thorn and Boe Lupescu meet in 6th grade homeroom. Ch. 83 flashback.
Feb 2037 CE	Hazel's coming-of-age party. [Ch 110]

Sun sel+3	10 AM: Alden Thorn affixes Rabbit.[16] Ch. 24.
SUMMON Mon sel+4 2/13 or 2/20	2 AM: Alden meets Earth. Alden summoned to LeafSong. Alden meets Joe, Sophie, Jel-nor, boaters, and Joe's minions.

[12] Affixation timer is exactly 90 days.

[13] The Chainer S Lute affixed was reserved for Hazel, and would not have been available to him before her selection.

[14] Ch. 15 calls this Saturday in the opening sentence. It's the day after Alden was selected on Thursday, so it's actually Friday. Also, Boe skips school to hang out with Alden in chapter 16, so this must be a school day.

[15] Hannah's funeral is noted to be on her birthday, 2/13, in chapter 5. Tracking the events in the story reveals this is a Saturday.

However, Sleyca decided at a later date that the starting year of the main story (ch. 5 onwards) was 2040. 2/13 does not fall on Saturday in 2040. In cases of conflict throughout the timeline, I give stated day of the week precedence over stated date as "Thursday vs. Saturday" has a greater influence on human behavior than "May 11 vs. May 13." This is the reason for the doubled dates throughout the SELECTION, SUMMON, and CHAOS segments of the timeline.

Full quote from Sleyca (in Patreon comments section here):

"It's officially 2040 moving forward. I was fuzzy on the precise year and not anticipating anyone to care enough to check me on it (you are dedicated!) until a few months ago, when I started mapping at Anesidoran holidays and Stuart's phone calls. I picked the 2040 calendar, which should match everything from the LeafSong arc forward. I do need to go back and fix some dates in the early story."

Chaos+99 June	Day 100. Kibby translates "Primary". 2nd night on Thegund.

[17] This day begins on the "fifth morning" of Alden's stay at LeafSong, so properly speaking it should be Summons+5A or Day 6. However, the following day is assigned the moniker Day 6 in ch 37. Call this Day 5 and move on.
[18] An Artonan day is approximately 26 hours long.
[19] Interpret "several months" as ~150 earth days.

HOME Chaos+197?	Alden talks to Alis. Alden meets Mother. Alden visits Stuart. Alden meets Other Alden.

[20] From stated days and lighting conditions, it appears that Thegund has a day-cycle roughly 60 earth days long. Everything after the collapse of Contract Thegund is more or less consistent with 30 days of light alternating with 30 days of darkness. However, this does not match the fact that it was apparently day on Thegund when Alden first traveled there. This may be author error and/or artistic license.

[21] Alden spent three wakeful periods, two full sleeps, and unknown fraction of a third sleep between the lab blowing up and the start of his run. This includes time pacing outside the crater, hoping for rescue. His first sleep was 10-11 hours long according to Kibby, who appears to have excellent time sense, so these "days" may be longer than 24 hours. Call it three days from explosion to run.

[22] Length of run approximated by noting that Alis did three shifts of triforming over the course of the run. Once her strikes disturbed the sand, but were silent; once they were audible; once Alden was so close he was running through dust clouds, during the final leg of the journey when he felt no pain. Alden thought he had not been running a full day when he first noticed the vibrations. Alis was at the start of her day when Alden arrived. The length of the run was probably about three full Artonan days.

~10/20-10/26	Spree day. Alden holds a NesiCard.

[23] Stu's calls come about thirteen earth days apart [ch. 70] because an Artonan week is approximately that long. Stu can only call Alden when he's home on the weekends and can enlist his sister's help. The call on Nov. 6 is noted in ch. 89 to be Stu's 5th call, so the dates of earlier calls can be deduced to within a day or so, making the plausible assumption that Stu called on the first day he could each weekend. Stu was also home when Alden got dumped in the woods, though it could have been early or late in the weekend, so the date of Alden's homecoming can likewise be deduced to within a couple days.

This landmark is used to set dates for the majority of Alden's time in the HOME and ADMISSION sections of the timeline.

~2057 CE	Kibby gains provisional summoning rights. [Ch 46, 70, 107][26] Alden tat matches with the future Primary. [Ch 50]

[24] I make the assumption that the time it takes for Alis' cleanup to reach the lab, at the epicenter of the chaos outbreak, represents one half to one fourth of the total cleanup time. Time required to instantiate a new Contract Thegund after that is unknown and not included in this estimate.

[25] "Wizards my age don't usually gain provisional summoning rights for another four years," according to Stu. Assume those are four Artonan years, so roughly five earth years. Stu could be a special case as a future knight, but for now, assume that he is not.

Note that if Stu is age 17-equivalent when met, then he gets his rights at about 28 earth years old, or roughly age 21-equivalent.

[26] Accept Alden's estimate that Kibby is age 8-equivalent. Apply age conversion factor. Use estimate from Stu's case that summoning rights begin at roughly 28 earth years old.
